LIE-STALIN TALKS RANGE OVER ENTIRE COLD WAR

Water Ordinance Read Third Time

Councilman Cook Readies 'Nay' To Keep Word With Voters

Third reading of a city ordinance, designed to bring $90,000 into the city coffers from first mortgage water revenue bonds, will be required before passage because one Circleville city councilman insists on keeping his word.

The ordinance was read for a second time Tuesday night. No effort was made to take a vote on the matter. Dr. E. L. Montgomery, vacationing in Tennessee, was the only councilman absent.

However, Councilman Ray Cook had a "nay" vote ready.

He explained after council meeting that the "nay" vote was because he wanted to keep his word to his constituents.

The $90,000 will be used to provide more water facilities within the city.

Cook said there is no doubt in his mind that more water is needed by this growing community. But he explained:

"WHEN WE went out and rang doorbells to sell that water bond issue several years ago, I was among those who promised we would have a water softener without added cost to local residents."

"We had been assured by the experts that our city water supply would be adequate for many years."

"Times have changed. We have added many new water users, one of them being the heavy user, General Electric."

"All that was unforeseen to us. There is considerable doubt in my mind now that we could provide a water softening plant now without added cost to the consumer."

"But I gave my word that a softener would be next on our list. I shall vote 'nay' on the ordinance."

In all probability, the ordinance will be passed next meeting of council, June 6.

According to present plans, the fund would pay for acquiring and constructing necessary extension and improvements in the municipal water system including additional mains and an increase in supply.

Chinese Ask Part In Treaty

May Complicate Jap Situation

WASHINGTON, May 17 — The Chinese Nationalist government is pressing today for a voice in the drafting of the Japanese peace treaty.

This development, informed sources said, is likely to make more complicated the problem of dealing with the Japanese situation and postpone actual work on the treaty draft.

Defense Secretary Johnson and Gen. Omar Bradley, chairman of the joint chiefs of staff, are scheduled to go to the Orient next month for talks with Gen. Douglas MacArthur on the Japanese peace treaty.

Chinese Ambassador Wellington Koo spent some time yesterday with Assistant Secretary of State Walton Butterworth on the problem. He admitted only that he had discussed the treaty.

It was understood that the Nationalist regime is now willing to participate in drafting the treaty without various restrictions it had previously insisted upon.

When the question of a meeting to draw up the document was broached more than two years ago, the Nationalist regime insisted that each of the five major powers—the U. S., Britain, France, the Soviet Union and China should have the veto power on any provision.

This position was taken to placate Russia, before the Chinese Communist drive got under full swing. Moscow had insisted that the machinery of the Far Eastern Commission, on which the Big Five have the veto, be used.

The U. S. having encountered several Russian vetoes both in the FEC and the United Nations, refused to accept this formula. Instead it insisted that decisions be made by a two-thirds vote, with all powers participating in the Far Eastern war casting a ballot.

"This one patrolman has either been the leader of increasing traffic violation arrests or a coordinator with other patrolmen in enforcement."

He identified the patrolman as Mack Wise.

Then Councilman Cook declared:

Results May Show In Months

Given Friendly Reception

MOSCOW, May 17—U. N. Secretary-General Trygve Lie said today that his peace conversations with Premier Stalin and Western leaders may show results in "two or three" months and announced plans for new conferences in Paris, London and Washington.

The U. N. official disclosed that his talks ranged the entire cold war front from atomic control to the China deadlock in the U. N.

He said he had "no reason to be dissatisfied" over his talks with Stalin and other Soviet leaders in Moscow in the course of his "peace mission" tour in Europe.

In addition to issuing a prepared statement summarizing his tour so far, Lie talked with news correspondents for almost a full hour.

He indicated that on his return journey he would confer again with British Foreign Secretary Bevin and French Foreign Minister Schuman.

LIE SAID HE also would like to talk to Prime Minister Attlee and French Premier Bidault if they are present and meetings can be arranged but there is no definite preliminary schedule.

The executive also said he will see both President Truman and Secretary of State Acheson in Washington, but these conversations had been arranged before he left the United States for Moscow. Lie plans to leave Moscow the end of the week after additional talks with Soviet officials.

Lie's tour took him to Paris, London, The Hague and Geneva before he came to Moscow on his peace mission.

He emphasized at every point and in his statement of today that he was doing his "duty" as chief executive of the United Nations as he felt obliged to do all (Continued on Page Two)

Traffic Safety To Start Here Next Month

Ohio's sixth annual traffic safety check program is scheduled to begin here June 1.

This year's safety program is to begin a full month earlier than in the past.

State Highway Patrolman Charles Watters said the date was moved ahead for two reasons. The first, to eliminate checking too much out-of-state traffic; the second, to perform the work when the weather is more suitable.

The safety check program, originated in 1945, is sponsored jointly by the State Highway Patrol and the Ohio chiefs of police.

Last year's check here revealed that nearly one car in every five checked was defective in some manner—bad lights, poor

Barn Is Fired By Child

Comic Book Provides Idea

An imaginative 6-year-old mind plus a thrilling comic book Tuesday led to the destruction of three Scioto Township farm buildings.

Flickinger added that assistants to the caretaker might be appointed "if we had the money."

Fire Chief Talmer Wise said the rural truck was summoned to the Edward Hall farm near Commercial Point at 1 p. m. Tuesday.

"When I got there (it's almost 20 miles) the roof had caved in on a log barn," Wise said, "and a corn crib and tool shed were burning badly. The Harrisburg fire department already was there."

Wise said that the farm is occupied by Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Parmenter and three sons, one of whom is 6-year-old John Parmenter.

"The youngster said he had been reading a comic book in which a man set fire to a house," Wise said. "He went into the barn then and struck a forbidden match."

"THEN HE RAN to his mother and told her he had built a fire in the barn."

Wise said that he was told the youngster had struck matches earlier and that his parents said they believed they had hidden all of the available matches.

Two tons of hay and three kittens nested in a barrel were destroyed in the barn fire, while an estimated 125 bushels of corn was destroyed on the crib.

A cornplanter and other tools were destroyed in the razing of the tool shed, the chief said, although some feed and other tools were saved.

The firemen directed their efforts toward saving the house, which stood only about 30 feet away from the burning buildings, a chicken pen and hog pen.

Chief Wise said the corn crib and tool shed were insured.

Bids Authorized For New Sewers

More sanitary sewage facilities for Circleville's northend seem to be in the offing.

City council Tuesday evening approved a motion made by Councilman Ray Anderson that the city service director be instructed to advertise for bids on a new line.

Service Director John Neudig has a complete estimate at his fingertips which calls for installation of a line running from North Court Street along Haywood Avenue to the Norfolk and Western Railway, then south to Hargus Creek and from there to Main Street. The project would cover a total of 4,946 feet, include a lift station along Hargus Creek, and cost nearly $20,000.

The order was given Tuesday after Ned Harden, representing Circleville Chamber of Commerce, made the third appeal in as many years for the course here.

Harden approached the board to explain that not only the Chamber is backing the move to

Houdek Quits Czech Post

LAKE SUCCESS, N. Y., May 17—The rigid obedience exacted by Russia from UN delegates of Iron Curtain lands was emphasized today by the statement of Vladimir Houdek that he had no inkling the Soviet Union intended a boycott over the Chinese issue.

Houdek quit his post as chief Czech delegate to the world organization yesterday after succeeding Jan Papanek a year ago. Houdek asked President Truman for sanctuary in the U. S. and cabled Premier Stalin that attempts to "Russify" other nations through Communism modelled after the practices in the Soviet Union will "do more harm than good to the cause of Socialism."

The Czech diplomat told correspondents last January he and other Iron Curtain land representatives received orders from their home governments to follow the Russians in the UN walkout demonstration.

Houdek said he assumed this would be only a "demonstration and nothing like the boycott it developed to be. I was definitely opposed to this procedure but I could do nothing."

He denounced also the Soviet pattern of transforming Czechoslovakia and other Iron Curtain lands into Communist police states.

Another glimmer of hope for the completion of Pickaway County's long awaited Memorial Lake and Park was sighted Wednesday.

All but one obstacle has been hurdled in the completion of the headwater lake in the Devil's Backbone area east of Circleville, according to the state department of conservation.

And that last obstacle is to be cleared in the near future, the department adds.

Lee Roach, new boss of the conservation department, Wednesday said that funds have been released by the department for dealing with the obstacle.

Meanwhile, fishing in the new lake area still may be postponed until late Fall or, effectively, next Spring.

The conservation boss earlier explained that transportation of fish for stocking lakes "is dangerous in hot weather."

He added that unless the lake was filled and readied for the stock fish before hot weather the stocking process probably would be postponed until cooler weather.

Roach said the gas main now is the only holdback in the completion of the lake. He said the grubbing operation has been fully completed and that the steel bridge which forged a creek in the area has been removed and the road abandoned.

County Eyed For Highway Patrol Post

Increased Traffic Given As Reason

Pickaway County is one of 49 Ohio counties which is being considered for a State Highway Patrol station.

Col. George Mingle, head of the Ohio State Patrol, Wednesday said that a local post is out of the question here in the near future, however.

"At present," said Mingle, "we're not in a position to establish a new post anywhere. We do not have the men to staff a new post."

The colonel explained that some consideration had been given to the establishment of a patrol post in Circleville, especially in view of the increased volume of traffic over the two principal national highways which cross in the city, Routes 22 and 23.

"Many counties over the state are wanting new posts," Mingle admitted.

"WE REALIZE that we can't give complete coverage in the areas where there are no posts. We do the best with what we have, and hope that the legislature will consider adding more men to our staff during its next session."

At present, two state highway patrolmen have been assigned to cover the area of Pickaway County, as well as some areas in surrounding counties. The men are equipped with one patrol car with which they are to cover the two highways which (Continued on Page Two)

•Free Health Exams Offered For Children Entering School

Every Circleville boy and girl planning to enter first grade here this Fall will have an opportunity to receive a free medical and dental examination.

The free examinations are to be sponsored by the Circleville Parent-Teacher Association and the Pickaway County Medical Society with approval from the Circleville board of education.

Dr. Richard Samuel, president of the Circleville PTA Tuesday outlined the plan for the exams to the Circleville education panel and sought approval for the plan.

"Last year the program failed in the area which needed the examinations most," Samuel told the board. "Many of the parents in those areas thought that the examinations would cost them money."

"This year's program will be strictly free to everyone," he concluded.

Lawyer-member Ray Davis of the education board told the PTA president that:

"I don't think we have the right to issue a mandate requiring that every child be examined. 'Don't get me wrong,' he parried. 'I'm with the program 100 percent and I think it is a wonderful thing which you are doing.'

GAS MAIN IS HOLD UP

Glimmer Of Hope Sighted For Memorial Lake Finish

Another glimmer of hope for the completion of Pickaway County's long awaited Memorial Lake and Park was sighted Wednesday.

All but one obstacle has been hurdled in the completion of the headwater lake in the Devil's Backbone area east of Circleville, according to the state department of conservation.

And that last obstacle is to be cleared in the near future, the department adds.

Lee Roach, new boss of the conservation department, Wednesday said that funds have been released by the department council for dealing with a 10-inch gas main which lies in the lake area.

Roach said the gas main now is the only holdback in the completion of the lake. He said the grubbing operation has been fully completed and that the steel bridge which forded a creek in the area has been removed and the road abandoned.

MEANWHILE, V.W. Flickinger, head of the division of parks in the department, said that a caretaker for the Pickaway project may not be appointed "for some little time."

Flickinger pointed out that the legislature "didn't give us too much the last time. We have hardly enough now to maintain the parks already in service."

"We haven't even completed an explicit plan for setting up the park at the site," he admitted. "We are waiting until we can make sure that we have the right plan for the program."

"There's no use making a mistake we might be sorry for later," Flickinger said.

The parks manager said that when a caretaker is appointed to the local post the personnel already employed in the organization probably will be given preference.

Flickinger added that assistants to the caretaker might be appointed "if we had the money."

MIDDLETON, May 17—Midletown fisherman Bill Deaton is a tired and disappointed man.

He reported to police today that he spent two nights digging up worms in the yard of his home with the intention of using them on a fishing trip. He said he collected approximately 2500, worth about $70, and placed them in a large can in his garage.

When he went to the garage this morning, he told police, he found just one of the 2500 left.

Filibuster Expected To Fail

Defeat Margin Up To Ten Votes

WASHINGTON, May 17 — An official check showed today that the Senate's attempt to gag a Southern filibuster against civil rights legislation on Friday can be expected to fail by at least five votes.

The tally, based on past performances and public and private disclosures by individual senators, indicated that "doubtful cases" and absences could send the margin of defeat on the civil rights test to as high as eight or ten votes.

The Southerners are talking against a bill which would ban job discrimination because of race, creed or color. It is generally conceded that only by silencing them through "closure"—which takes 64 senate votes—can final action on the bill be obtained.

The leaders of both parties are putting the strongest pressure on their senators to appear Friday and vote for cloture. Fair employment legislation is a key part of President Truman's "Fair Deal" program and was also contained in Republican campaign pledges of 1948.

The vote check showed that at the most 34 of the 42 Republicans and 25 of the 54 Democrats will back the closure move.

The tally allowed for only two absences, which would mean an extraordinarily heavy vote for the Senate. It gave the pro-civil rights senators the benefit of nearly every doubtful vote.

brakes, worn tires, inefficient windshield wipers or faulty horn.

A total of 1,753 cars were checked in Circleville and Pickaway County in 1949, according to the highway patrol. Nearly 325 cars checked were found failing in one of the categories.

In addition to the car defects, the program also includes a check of drivers' licenses.

Patrolman Watters said that for "line" checking probably will be set aside in Circleville when motorists may drive into a special area to have their auto looked over.

The patrolmen also are expected to hold "spot checks" along the major highways to examine autos which otherwise would not be tested.

A "safety check" sticker will be issued to each car which passes the exam, Watters said.

Servicemen Given Health Checkup After Release

PEARL HARBOR, May 17—Two American servicemen, homeward bound from 19 months of Communist captivity in China, underwent thorough medical checkups today in Hawaii.

Marine Sgt. Elmer C. Bender of Cincinnati and Chicago and navy electrician's mate William C. Smith of Long Beach, Calif., received a warm welcome when they landed in a navy plane late yesterday.

They were hurried to the naval hospital for complete medical examinations by doctors who expressed fears that their long confinement and diet in Red China may have weakened them.

The two men, freed last week by the Chinese Communists and taken in a British ship to Hong Kong where they began their homeward journey, are expected to spend two days resting in Hawaii before resuming their trip.

Navy and Marine corps officers were on hand to greet Bender and Smith as they stepped down from the navy patrol bomber.

A squad of armed, helmeted marines guarded the big plane from the moment it came to a stop before the Barbers Point airport operations office at 5 p.m.

BUC Reports Claims Drop

Claimants for unemployment compensation in Pickaway County dropped sharply the week ending May 13.

C. C. Thomas, manager of the local office, Bureau of Unemployment Compensation, said only 11 new claims were filed that week. At the same time, he said, continuing claims—those filed by persons idle a week or more—numbered 251.

The latter figure was a decline of 17 from the week before. Concerning new claims, Thomas said there had been 21 in this category the previous week.

County Men Sent For Exams

Two Pickaway County men were being taken to Lima State Hospital for the Criminal Insane Wednesday for examinations.

They were William Cradlebaugh, who pleaded guilty to arson in connection with the burning of the Smith dairy barn on Route 104; and William Hill, who confessed to forgery.

Sheriff Charles Radcliff drove the two men to the institution in a county cruiser.

A third man sentenced to the Lima hospital remained in Pickaway County jail for further questioning and investigation. He was William Graham, Cradlebaugh's cousin, who admitted he attempted to burn the Heffner Grain Co. elevator near Williamsport.

They were hurried to the naval hospital for complete medical examinations by doctors who expressed fears that their long confinement and diet in Red China may have weakened them.

The two men, freed last week by the Chinese Communists and taken in a British ship to Hong Kong where they began their homeward journey, are expected to spend two days resting in Hawaii before resuming their trip.

THE U.N. official also conferred with officials in Washington before leaving for Europe.

His statement said: "I have been received in a most friendly way and the exchanges of views and ideas have been of a positive kind."

"I have been asked what we have been talking about."

"Our conversations have concentrated on the general international situation, Chinese representation in the United Nations and the so-called 'Cold War.'

"Among other matters discussed, I can also mention periodic meetings of the Security Council and the control of atomic energy."

"I am sorry I cannot give you more details."

"The talks and exchanges of views between leaders of states and the secretary-general must be confidential if the results as regards actual situations and difficult problems are to be obtained."

"I HAVE BEEN asked how I am satisfied with the results of my discussion with leaders of states in the four capitals I have visited since April 20th."

"To this I should only like to point out that the U. N. secretary-general cannot be satisfied before the U. N. machinery works normally, the Cold War is brought to an end and friendly relations are established between the members nations."

"I have no reason to be dissatisfied with my conversations in Moscow. A final judgment, however, cannot be made before two or three months from now; maybe it will take a still longer period."

DUV Discontinue Memorial Day Ceremonies

Daughters of the Union Veterans of the Civil War voted to discontinue for this year, their part in Memorial Day Ceremonies.

The DUV took over the ceremony when the Relief Corps (Auxiliary to Grand Army of the Republic) finally dwindled away. The present group has taken part in the ceremonies for at least 25 years according to Mrs. W. E. Pickens.

The meeting took place in Memorial Hall Tuesday evening with Mrs. O. C. King, vice-president conducting the business session.

Members voted to purchase a wreath to be placed on Soldiers' monument in Forest Cemetery in memory of the soldiers of all wars.

It was also decided to attend morning church services in First Evangelical United Brethren church Sunday as a group.

McCrady Issues Fiery Edict

Another fiery warning against shooting air rifles in the city Tuesday flamed from Circleville police station.

The warning was given by Police Chief William F. McCrady, who exhibited a shattered lamp as evidence of the vandalism. The globe was taken from the light in the southend.

"I am warning the parents, not the kids," he declared.

"If we catch any youngsters shooting the guns in town we'll confiscate the guns and send the child and his parents for a talk with juvenile authorities."

The chief added that Circleville merchants have been warned not to sell the pellets to under-age persons.

Estimates Sought On Windows

Circleville board of education soon is to seek estimates for painting window frames in the school.

Virgil Cress, clerk to the board, Tuesday told the panel that painting and repair work will be necessary for the windows facing south and west in the building this summer. He added that no specifications have been drawn up to date.

Filibuster Expected To Fail

Defeat Margin Up To Ten Votes

WASHINGTON, May 17 — An official check showed today that the Senate's attempt to gag a Southern filibuster against civil rights legislation on Friday can be expected to fail by at least five votes.

The tally, based on past performances and public and private disclosures by individual senators, indicated that "doubtful cases" and absenteest could send the margin of defeat on the civil rights test to as high as eight or ten votes.

The Southerners are talking against a bill which would ban job discrimination because of race, creed or color. It is generally conceded that only by silencing them through "closure"—which takes 64 senate votes—can final action on the bill be obtained.

The leaders of both parties are putting the strongest pressure on their senators to appear Friday and vote for cloture. Fair employment legislation is a key part of President Truman's "Fair Deal" program and was also contained in Republican campaign pledges of 1948.

The vote check showed that at the most 34 of the 42 Republicans and 25 of the 54 Democrats will back the cloture move.

The tally allowed for only two absenteest, which would mean an extraordinarily heavy vote for the Senate. It gave the pro-civil rights senators the benefit of nearly every doubtful vote.

brakes, worn tires, inefficient windshield wipers or faulty horn.

A total of 1,753 cars were checked in Circleville and Pickaway County in 1949, according to the highway patrol. Nearly 325 cars checked were found failing in one of the categories.

In addition to the car defects, the program also includes a check of drivers' licenses.

Patrolman Watters said that days for "line" checking probably will be set aside in Circleville when motorists may drive into a special area to have their autos looked over.

The patrolmen also are expected to hold "spot checks" along the major highways to examine autos which otherwise would not be tested.

A "safety check" sticker will be issued to each car which passes the exam, Watters said.

Servicemen Given Health Checkup After Release

PEARL HARBOR, May 17—Two American servicemen homeward bound from 19 months of Communist captivity in China underwent thorough medical checkups today in Hawaii.

Marine Sgt. Elmer C. Bender of Cincinnati and Chicago and navy electrician's mate William C. Smith of Long Beach, Calif., received a warm welcome when they landed in a navy plane late yesterday.

They were hurried to the naval hospital for complete medical examinations by doctors who expressed fears that their long confinement and diet in Red China may have weakened them.

The two men, freed last week by the Chinese Communists and taken in a British ship to Hong Kong where they began their homeward journey, are expected to spend two days resting in Hawaii before resuming their trip.

Navy and Marine corps officers were on hand to greet Bender and Smith as they stepped down from the navy patrol bomber.

A squad of armed, helmeted marines guarded the big plane from the moment it came to a stop before the Barbers Point airport operations office at 5 p.m.

BUC Reports Claims Drop

Claimants for unemployment compensation in Pickaway County dropped sharply the week ending May 13.

C. C. Thomas, manager of the local office, Bureau of Unemployment Compensation, said only 11 new claims were filed that week. At the same time, he said, continuing claims—the those filed by persons idle a week or more—numbered 251.

The latter figure was a decline of 17 from the week before. Concerning new claims, Thomas said there had been 21 in this category the previous week.

County Men Sent For Exams

Two Pickaway County men were being taken to Lima State Hospital for the Criminal Insane Wednesday for examinations.

They were William Cradlebaugh, who pleaded guilty to arson in connection with the burning of the Smith dairy barn on Route 104; and William Hill, who confessed to forgery.

Sheriff Charles Radcliff drove the two men to the institution in a county cruiser.

A third man sentenced to the Lima hospital remained in Pickaway County jail for further questioning and investigation. He was William Graham, Cradlebaugh's cousin, who admitted he attempted to burn the Heffner Grain Co. elevator near Williamsport.

THE U.N. official also conferred with officials in Washington before leaving for Europe. His statement said:

"I have been received in a most friendly way and the exchanges of views and ideas have been of a positive kind."

"I have been asked what we have been talking about."

"Our conversations have concentrated on the general international situation, Chinese representation in the United Nations and the so-called 'Cold War.'

"Among other matters discussed, I can also mention periodic meetings of the Security Council and the control of atomic energy."

"I am sorry I cannot give you more details."

"The talks and exchanges of views between leaders of states and the secretary-general must be confidential if the results as regards actual situations and difficult problems are to be obtained."

"I HAVE BEEN asked how I am satisfied with the results of my discussion with leaders of states in the four capitals I have visited since April 20th."

"To this I should only like to point out that the U. N. secretary-general cannot be satisfied before the U. N. machinery works normally, the Cold War is brought to an end and friendly relations are established between the members nations."

"I have no reason to be dissatisfied with my conversations in Moscow. A final judgment, however, cannot be made before two or three months from now; maybe it will take a still longer period."

Both roads reported freight service almost completely resumed.

Two western roads hit by the tieup, which lasted seven days, the Santa Fe and the Union Pacific, said they expect normal passenger service day.

Members voted to purchase a wreath to be placed on Soldiers' monument in Forest Cemetery in memory of the soldiers of all wars.

It was also decided to attend morning church services in First Evangelical United Brethren church Sunday as a group.

McCrady Issues Fiery Edict

Another fiery warning against shooting air rifles in the city Tuesday flamed from Circleville police.

The warning was given by Police Chief William F. McCrady, who exhibited a shattered lamp as evidence of the vandalism. The globe was taken from a light in the southend.

"I am warning the parents, not the kids," he declared.

"If we catch any youngsters shooting the guns in town we'll confiscate the guns and send the child and his parents for a talk with juvenile authorities."

The chief added that Circleville merchants have been warned not to sell the pellets to underage persons.

Estimates Sought On Windows

Circleville board of education soon is to seek estimates for painting window frames in the school.

Virgil Cress, clerk to the board, Tuesday told the panel that painting and repair work will be necessary for the windows facing south and west in the building this summer. He added that no specifications have been drawn up to date.

School Board Schedules Two Building Meets

Two special building program meetings are scheduled next Tuesday for the Circleville board of education.

The education panel is to meet at noon Tuesday in the high school to open contractor's bids for the proposed new Caleb Woods north end elementary school building.

In addition, the board will meet later in the afternoon to consider awarding of contracts for the construction of the school.

During the same session the board also plans to discuss its industrial arts and gymnasium building programs.

Chief discussion on the two new projects will center upon whether the board wishes the two projects combined as a single building or whether it wishes first to construct the industrial arts plant, later considering the athletic plant.

After hearing the visitor out, Board President Carl Leist said "I feel this is a program we should have in our school."

Member Ray Davis pushed the action on the proposal by declaring:

"I think

DAYTONA BEACH, Fla., May 17—An elderly Daytona Beach couple today is excited by the first bit of news concerning their only son since he disappeared at sea in 1939.

A post card printed in pencil brought Mr. and Mrs. Joe Hardee word yesterday that their son was picked up by a German submarine 11 years ago and now is "alive and safe."

The card was signed by a Captain Udet, who said he was commander of a submarine which picked up Shannon Hardee and two companions while they were shrimp fishing in 1939. The note was postmarked New Haven, Conn.

Udet wrote that the men were taken to Murmansk, Russia, and interned there until after the war. He said they were then sent to Siberia. The u-boat skipper added that "Shannon is alive and will return."

Rasser Refuses

COLUMBUS, May 17—Cincinnati Labor Leader Fred Rasser has refused to resign from the state board which is considering changes in minimum wages for women and minors in hotel and restaurant industries.

Robert Williams, executive vice president of the Ohio State Restaurant Association, demanded Rasser's resignation yesterday as the board met in Columbus to study the wage revisions.

Rasser, business agent of local 177, AFL Cooks Union, told newsmen:

"I'm not biased and I have no prejudices. I'll stay as long as I'm welcome. I have no intention of resigning until I am asked."

Williams, in a letter to Governor Lausche, said Rasser's union currently is engaged in a labor dispute with a Cincinnati restaurant.

U.S. 'Modesty'
Called Advantage
For Communists

ATLANTIC CITY, N. J., May 17—Republican National Chairman Guy Gabrielson declared today that U. S. "false modesty" has given "communist conspirators" a cold war advantage and urged an all-out offensive against the borer appear will reduce losses."

Illinois University agronomists recommend delaying corn planting until at least May 20, he added. Planting dates in other Midwestern states are later, too.

Using fertilizer in the row will hasten maturity of the corn and help avert the danger of soft corn from early autumn frosts, the committee points out.

Row fertilization gets the crop off to an early start and gives it the jump on weeds. It helps the seedling quickly to develop a good, sturdy root system at the growth stage when the plant is not strong enough to forage for itself. It puts the corn on the road to making good yields.

Best cautions farmers, however, not to expect a little fertilizer added in the row to do the entire job of providing nutrients for the corn crop. To make high yields your soil has to be well supplied with plant food.

If the soil's supply is low, you need to add sufficient nitrogen phosphate and potash fertilizer to properly nourish the crop. This can be broadcast before planting or added in the plow sole, so there will be an ample, well-balanced supply of nutrients to bring the crop through to high-yielding maturity.

The GOP chief said he is convinced that "peoples in other lands" will respond to an American rallying cry inspired by the constitutional guarantees of life, liberty and the pursuit of happiness.

Gabrielson labeled Communism "an incredibly evil force shrewdly directed by men of unmatched malignance" and asserted that it can best be fought with the "tremendous moral and spiritual force of American principles."

Engineer Resigns

COLUMBUS, May 17—Paul W. Maetzel, chief engineer of Columbus for 27 years will leave office June 15.

The 66-year-old engineer who gained a national reputation for his policy of "heavy" construction submitted his resignation yesterday to service director Elmer A. Keller.

He Fife Dies In Columbus

COLUMBUS, May 17—Dr. Ray Fife, professor of agricultural education at Ohio State university, died yesterday in a Columbus hospital.

Dr. Fife served as president of New Mexico State college from 1936 to 1938 and was president of the American Vocational Association from 1933 to 1935. He was chairman of the north central region of vocational education in agriculture at the time of his death.

Looking Ahead

By George Benson
President
Harding College

There are many factors working against continuation of American liberty for the individual and one of the most dangerous is the antagonisms between groups of Americans themselves. We cannot fight effectively against an enemy within or from without if our society is constantly torn with bitter internal strife, one group against another. Under such conditions our economic progress slows down and the moral character of our nation is weakened.

One of the worst blights in America today is the conflict which propagandists have built up between employers and employees. This war of group against group is actively agitated by Communists and other radical elements working for a "New Social Order." But the Socialists and Communists couldn't successfully create enduring strife between these important groups in our American population if both groups had a knowledge of basic sound economics and real social justice.

The true interests of both labor and management are identical. Employees of a business or industry always have a moral right to request an increase productivity for which they are directly responsible. Social justice gives them the right to request it, though not to force it. Under the capitalistic principles of private property and free enterprise no minority group has a right to take by force the wealth of another, or in effect impose taxes upon others.

Wage raise requests are just, therefore, when the employees have themselves helped to boost productivity and, thus, company income. Though social justice may in some instances decree that they be given a share of profits or wealth they didn't help create they have no moral right to demand that. The Socialist doctrine, on the other hand, does not recognize the principle of private property. It gives everybody the right, by force of law, to participate in the fruits of the production of everybody else. That is the essence of Socialism.

People who invest their savings (capital) in the establishment and operation of a business have the right, under the American system, to keep the profit. The only moral obligation on them is to accord just treatment to the employees and the public. Social justice decrees, further, that they reward the employees properly for increased productivity. But to do or not to do this is a prerogative of human rights. When, or if, an attempt is made to establish this economically and socially sound code by force of law—or by any force—real social justice is thereupon violated.

Therefore, the demand of Socialist or Communist propagandists for a share in the profits of a business solely on the basis of their so-called "Social Justice" or "Economic Democracy," and ignoring the fundamental rights of the business ownership can never be harmonized with the philosophy of American capitalism or real human justice. These are fundamentals: (1) The enforced sharing of wealth is Socialism regardless of what label it may be given. (2) The voluntary sharing of wealth is an American capitalist (and Christian) ideal which has been liberally exercised. (3) And reward measured upon the base of productivity is economically and morally sound.

Dave Beck, leader of the International Brotherhood of Teamsters, Chauffeurs, Warehousemen and Helpers of America, said in a recent speech: "There is no problem in human relationships so complex or so grievous that it cannot be solved reasonably, if men of character, men with a sincere desire to cooperate in mutual confidence, will sit down together around the conference table, each respecting the rights and dignity of the other, and all inspired by the will to serve the common good."

That's a good statement. It is in contrast to one made a few weeks later by Emil Mazey, secretary-treasurer of the United Automobile Workers, in a speech to Chrysler strikers. He was quoted as saying: "When we grow a little stronger we will demand all that we produce." This goal ignores the "rights and dignity" of the investors who build the plants and finance purchase of the machinery raw materials and managerial skill to provide the jobs. It is a disruptive statement, not a harmonizing one.

In addition to first cultivation on row crops, this implement is ideal for cultivating drilled crops, such as alfalfa, clover, breaking up any soil crust which may have formed. Also used for preparing seed beds in stubble mulch farming. By changing the hitch, spiders rotate in reverse direction for use as a treader in heavy stubble and other crop residue without clogging. Looking Ahead

By George Benson
President
Harding College

There are many factors working against continuation of American liberty for the individual and one of the most dangerous is the antagonisms between groups of Americans themselves. We cannot fight effectively against an enemy within or from without if our society is constantly torn by bitter internal strife, one group against another. Under such conditions our economic progress slows down and the moral character of our nation is weakened.

One of the worst blights in America today is the conflict which propagandists have built up between employers and employees. This war of group against group is actively agitated by Communists and other radical elements working for a "New Social Order." But the Socialists and Communists couldn't successfully create enduring strife between these important groups in our American population if both groups had a knowledge of basic sound economics and real social justice.

The true interests of both labor and management are identical. Employees of a business of industry always have a moral right to request an increase productivity for which they are directly responsible. Social justice gives them the right to request it, though not to force it. Under the capitalistic principles of private property and free enterprise no minority group has a right to take by force the wealth of another, or in effect impose taxes upon others.

Wage raise requests are just, therefore, when the employees have themselves helped to boost productivity and, thus, company income. Though social justice may in some instances decree that they be given a share of profits or wealth they didn't help create they have no moral right to demand that. The Socialist doctrine, on the other hand, does not recognize the principle of private property. It gives everybody the right, by force of law, to participate in the fruits of the production of everybody else. That is the essence of Socialism.

People who invest their savings (capital) in the establishment and operation of a business have the right, under the American system, to keep the profit. The only moral obligation on them is to accord just treatment to the employees and the public. Social justice decrees, further, that they reward the employees properly for increased productivity. But to do or not to do this is a prerogative of human rights. When, or if, an attempt is made to establish this economically and socially sound code by force of law—or by any force—real social justice is thereupon violated.

Therefore, the demand of Socialist or Communist propagandists for a share in the profits of a business solely on the basis of their so-called "Social Justice" or "Economic Democracy," and ignoring the fundamental rights of the business ownership can never be harmonized with the philosophy of American capitalism or real human justice. These are fundamentals: (1) The enforced sharing of wealth is Socialism regardless of what label it may be given. (2) The voluntary sharing of wealth is an American capitalist (and Christian) ideal which has been liberally exercised. (3) And reward measured upon the base of productivity is economically and morally sound.

Dave Beck, leader of the International Brotherhood of Teamsters, Chauffeurs, Warehousemen and Helpers of America, said in a recent speech: "There is no problem in human relationships so complex or so grievous that it cannot be solved reasonably, if men of character, men with a sincere desire to cooperate in mutual confidence, will sit down together around the conference table, each respecting the rights and dignity of the other, and all inspired by the will to serve the common good."

That's a good statement. It is in contrast to one made a few weeks later by Emil Mazey, secretary-treasurer of the United Automobile Workers, in a speech to Chrysler strikers. He was quoted as saying: "When we grow a little stronger we will demand all that we produce." This goal ignores the "rights and dignity" of the investors who build the plants and finance purchase of the machinery raw materials and managerial skill to provide the jobs. It is a disrupting statement, not a harmonizing one.

NATION SAID IN 'UPGRADE'

Keyserling Gives Praise To 'Spending Program'

CHICAGO, May 17—Leon Keyserling, acting chairman of President Truman's Council of Economic Advisers, said Monday that the much-criticized "deficit spending program" saved the nation from a severe economic depression early last year.

Keyserling was one of a group of nine government and labor leaders participating in a panel discussion on "The Freedom Budget—why National Defense and International Cooperation Are Good Investments?"

The panel is one of a series being held during the Jefferson Jubilee celebration in Chicago by the Democratic national committee. The jubilee was highlighted Monday night with a gigantic parade and a major address by President Truman in the stadium.

Keyserling noted that in periods after other wars, declines in farm prices and income and in private investment led to economic disaster, and added:

"But this time, as never before, we got by with only a slight recession in 1949, and are now in the up-grade toward higher and higher levels of prosperity."

"I HONESTLY BELIEVE that, without these public policies, the 1949 recession might have turned into something as serious as what happened between 1920 and 1922."

He declared that our "current expanding prosperity" is proof that the "general burden of taxation is not excessive." High earnings of corporations, gave the lie, he argued, to claims that business is being ruined by some trend toward "statism."

Frederick W. Lawton, director of the Bureau of the Budget, noted that although overall expenditures have increased the nation is spending a "far smaller percentage of our national income for the domestic programs of the government than we did in 1939."

"The President's budget, as recommended to Congress," said Lawton, "provides a sound basis for moving toward a balanced budget as rapidly as the existing situation permits."

W. Stuart Symington, chairman of the National Security Resources Board, said the U. S. could avoid attack by an aggressor by maintaining a strong armed force. He described the work of the NSRB in helping to plan an efficient, powerful force and in planning for civil defense and mobilization in the event of a war.

RULING THE CAPITAL

FOR A LONG time the government of the District of Columbia has been a national headache. The Constitution places the government of the district in the hands of Congress, which turns over the administration to a commission of three but retains all legislative functions. This is one spot in the nation where the term democracy has a queer definition, for there are no ballot boxes in the District.

The scheme doubtless made good sense when it was devised, but now it works out badly for both the nation and its capital city. Congress is constantly busy with the unbelievable complexities of the government of a great nation. Yet it must take time to be a city council for Washington, one of the biggest cities in the country. The attention Congress is able to give to Washington government is hopelessly inadequate, for a city of such size requires almost a full-time legislative body. Even this attention is robbed from the nation, for the energies of Congress belong to the people, not to the city in which Congress meets.

When the annual Summer period of daylight saving time began, Washington received a forceful reminder of the inadequacy of its government. For Congress had not gotten around to passing the daylight time bill, and the city remained on standard time when the clocks were moved ahead in the surrounding area. Perhaps the resulting confusion might be a reminder to Congress that it is time to make a change, not only in the setting of the clocks but also in the government of the capital.

CRACKER BARREL CARAVAN

WATCH for the cracker barrel caravan! To publicize the Hoover Commission Report for economy in government, four red, white and blue vehicles have left Philadelphia to tour the country. Of these one is a 30-foot trailer built to resemble a country store. Inside is a cracker barrel, from which prominent citizens, in and out of office, will speak, advocating governmental economy. The caravan is a project of the Citizens Committee for the Hoover Report, a bipartisan group.

The caravan will stop in communities large and small. It will visit state and county fairs, college and high school campuses, and industrial plants. At every stop the Hoover Report will be discussed, and literature distributed.

All this should build up a considerable fire under those members of Congress who are for economy, but are opposed to doing away with the local outlet for federal spending and patronage. Some of these officials may find that real economy has its friends, even more so than spending. If this is true it needs to be demonstrated, however, and here as well as elsewhere.

A visit from the caravan might at least help stir up thought, maybe even argument.

George E. Sokolsky's

These Days

It is a long time since Republicans thought it worth-while to get excited about their party. Yet, during the past few months, quite a few private meetings have been held here and there among Republicans to see what their party really is.

One such invitation was issued for a meeting which took place in the Harvard Club in New York on May 8, addressed by Senator Ralph Flanders of Vermont and Congressman Christian Herter of Boston. The invitation read:

"A few of us have been very much concerned with the philosophy of the present leaders of the Republican party who are leaders simply because of their seniority. We have found that the rank and file of the Republican party has an entirely different view from that expressed by people like Gabrielson, Senator Wherry and others."

It is a little hard to accept the statement that Senator Robert A. Taft is a leader only by seniority or that Senator Flanders is not a leader only because he is junior. However, we shall let that pass.

Russell Davenport, who used to write Wendell Willkie's speeches, seems to be working on a similar enterprise. One evening, at a dinner party, a young lady told me, all a-dither, that she was in the Republican underground.

It appears that secret meetings are being held to work out ways and means of taking over the party by a secret blitz, the way Willkie managed to do it by a public blitz. There is much silliness in the current activity and it would not be worthy of mention except that all the divisionist activities in 1950 make it easier for the Democrats to defeat the Republicans for congressional seats.

Were these activities rampant in 1951 they might even be wholesome, stimulating interest and activity. In 1950, they can only be helpful to Democrats, who know from past experience that they can depend upon Republicans to defeat Republicans.

In countries like these, always running the risk of new upheavals, no news is definitely good news.

France withdraw their occupation troops from Trieste merely brought into the open a simmering east-west embroil over the city.

In this tense atmosphere, there is no indication that the Western Allies have any thought of giving in to the Soviets on the question of Trieste. American officials are committed to continue support of the joint occupation.

If a third world war should come, it could stem from just such a situation as that in Trieste. But diplomatic observers say this dispute probably is less serious than the Russian destruction of a United States Navy plane over the Baltic sea.

It may be a long time—if ever—before the Trieste dispute is settled. Meantime, to use a shopworn phrase, it must be considered one of the several "tinderboxes" of Europe.

• ORANGE A DAY—Foreign Aid Director Paul G. Hoffman has given Congress a down-to-earth explanation of the need for continuing the European Recovery Program.

Hoffman points out that European production is now about the 1938 level. But he adds:

"There's nothing more fallacious than the idea that the great mass of Europeans are living in any luxurious manner. They're living at a level that our so-called underprivileged in America would consider substandard."

Their per capita income is an average of $422 a year as compared with our per capita income of $1,300.

"No one can say exactly what the figure would be that would give the average European a real urge to continue his way of life and get out and fight to protect his freedom. But $422 per capita is too low an income."

Hoffman expressed the view that greater production will meet the problems of increasing population in Europe. He pointed out that California's population has risen sharply in the last 25 years, and added:

Nature Alaska's Best Defense, Say Military

Modern armies just cannot make much headway on land through the frigid Alaskan mountains, the treacherous tundra and barren wastelands.

In summer when temperatures sometimes sizzle into the 90s after winter lows of 65 below zero the countryside may become a swampland. Rushing waters from melting snow often make the roads mere mudpaths subject to sudden washouts.

Alaska, in other words, is a region where a man shouldn't have to move from place to place except in an airplane.

Defense chiefs seem to have concluded that should an enemy attempt a landing in Alaska or the Aleutian Islands, he would simply expose himself to unmerciful attack by the United States Air Force.

RULING THE CAPITAL

FOR A LONG time the government of the District of Columbia has been a national headache. The Constitution places the government of the district in the hands of Congress, which turns over the administration to a commission of three but retains all legislative functions. This is one spot in the nation where the term democracy has a queer definition, for there are no ballot boxes in the District.

The scheme doubtless made good sense when it was devised, but now it works out badly for both the nation and its capital city. Congress is constantly busy with the unbelievable complexities of the government of a great nation. Yet it must take time to be a city council for Washington, one of the biggest cities in the country. The attention Congress is able to give to Washington government is hopelessly inadequate, for a city of such size requires almost a full-time legislative body. Even this attention is robbed from the nation, for the energies of Congress belong to the people, not to the city in which Congress meets.

When the annual Summer period of daylight saving time began, Washington received a forceful reminder of the inadequacy of its government. For Congress had not gotten around to passing the daylight time bill, and the city remained on standard time when the clocks were moved ahead in the surrounding area. Perhaps the resulting confusion might be a reminder to Congress that it is time to make a change, not only in the setting of the clocks but also in the government of the capital.

CRACKER BARREL CARAVAN

WATCH for the cracker barrel caravan! To publicize the Hoover Commission Report for economy in government, four red, white and blue vehicles have left Philadelphia to tour the country. Of these one is a 30-foot trailer built to resemble a country store. Inside is a cracker barrel, from which prominent citizens, in and out of office, will speak, advocating governmental economy. The caravan is a project of the Citizens Committee for the Hoover Report, a bipartisan group.

The caravan will stop in communities large and small. It will visit state and county fairs, college and high school campuses, and industrial plants. At every stop the Hoover Report will be discussed, and literature distributed.

All this should build up a considerable fire under those members of Congress who are for economy, but are opposed to doing away with the local outlet for federal spending and patronage. Some of these officials may find that real economy has its friends, even more so than spending. If this is true it needs to be demonstrated, however, and here as well as elsewhere.

A visit from the caravan might at least help stir up thought, maybe even argument.

These Days

It is a long time since Republicans thought it worth-while to get excited about their party. Yet, during the past few months, quite a few private meetings have been held here and there among Republicans to see what their party really is.

One such invitation was issued for a meeting which took place in the Harvard Club in New York on May 8, addressed by Senator Ralph Flanders of Vermont and Congressman Christian Herter of Boston. The invitation read:

"A few of us have been very much concerned with the philosophy of the present leaders of the Republican party who are leaders simply because of their seniority. We have found that the rank and file of the Republican party has an entirely different view from that expressed by people like Gabrielson, Senator Wherry and others."

It is a little hard to accept the statement that Senator Robert A. Taft is a leader only by seniority or that Senator Flanders is not a leader only because he is junior. However, we shall let that pass.

Russell Davenport, who used to write Wendell Willkie's speeches, seems to be working on a similar enterprise. One evening, at a dinner party, a young lady told me, all a-dither, that she was in the Republican underground.

It appears that secret meetings are being held to work out ways and means of taking over the party by a secret blitz, the way Willkie managed to do it by a public blitz. There is much silliness in the current activity and it would not be worthy of mention except that all the divisionist activities in 1950 make it easier for the Democrats to defeat the Republicans for congressional seats.

Were these activities rampant in 1951 they might even be wholesome, stimulating interest and activity. In 1950, they can only be helpful to Democrats, who know from past experience that they can depend upon Republicans to defeat Republicans.

It is amusing to watch the antics of these underground Republicans. Most of them have, since 1936, been envious of their more courageous friends who made the switch clear and unmistakable. For instance, when Judge Robert P. Patterson went over to Roosevelt, he went whole hog from the Republicans to the New Dealers. Many of his associates among the silk-stocking Republicans just could not do it. They were stuck with loyalties and a conscience.

DIET AND HEALTH

Some Causes of Indigestion

By HERMAN N. BUNDESEN, M.D.

ONE of the most frequent complaints of patients who suffer from indigestion is bloating. In the majority of cases this condition is due to excessive amounts of gas in the stomach and bowel, but recently, Dr. Walter C. Alvarez of the Mayo Clinic has described a form of bloating due not to gas but to contraction of muscles of the abdominal wall.

In most cases the swelling comes on gradually during the afternoon and decreases during the night. Sometimes, however, it appears with great rapidity and vanishes with the same speed. X-rays give positive proof that this type of bloating is not due to gas, since they show that it is never present in these cases in excessive quantities.

Of course, bloating in most cases is produced by too much gas in the bowel. This may come from swallowing air during eating, eating too much, eating indigestible or poorly-prepared foods, or eating such foods as baked beans, onions or cabbage, or foods to which one is allergic or oversensitive. Drinking cold drinks also may bring on bloating.

NERVOUS EXCITEMENT

Dr. Alvarez studied 92 patients with this condition, 85 of whom were women. He concluded that the muscular contractions are brought on chiefly by nervous excitement and emotional upsets, though physical pain also seems to play a role, since many of these patients were found to be somewhat sway-backed, with a forward bending of the spine, which forces the abdomen forward. Nevertheless, excitement, annoyance, fright and fatigue

Three Speakers Given Feature Program Spots In Mother's Day Banquet

Toastmistress Is Ruth Stout

Three speakers were featured on the program of the traditional mother-daughter banquet held for the 20th-odd year by Mrs. Marion's Sunday School Class of First Methodist church.

Mrs. George Marion, of Columbus, former teacher, for whom the class was named gave an extemporaneous address in which she recalled many banquets given by the class.

Dr. W. L. Sprouse, present teacher, also spoke telling of his own mother.

Mrs. Pryer Harmount talked on "Medicinal Plants" in which she told of the medicinal value of many rare and common plants.

Banquet tables were centered with lace fans surrounding bouquets of tulips and lilacs. White candles provided lights for the tables. Programs were miniature lace fans similar to the large fans used as table decorations. Favors were potted ageratum plants.

Miss Ruth Stout was toast mistress. She gave clues by which the name of each class member could be guessed.

After introductions Mrs. Glenn Hines, class president, gave the welcome to which Mrs. Clarence Horne responded.

Vocal numbers were presented by Mrs. Ralph A. Schumm, accompanied by Miss Marilyn Schumm. Her selections included "Beautiful Lady," "To My Mother" and "Mother Macree."

Arrangements for the banquet were made by four committees. Mrs. Dwight Steele and Mrs. Herbert Southward were in charge of reservations.

Assisting Miss Ruth Stout who was chairman of program committee were Miss Wilmina Phelps, Miss Margie Carmean and Mrs. Oland Bostwick.

On the dinner committee, Mrs. William Leist was assisted by Mrs. Ernest Young.

Responsible for the decorations and favors were Mrs. Howard Cook, chairman, Mrs. C. J. Schneider, Mrs. Norman Kutter, Mrs. Edgar McClure and Miss Elizabeth Hilday.

Out-of-town guests were Mrs. Marion of Columbus, Mrs. H. B. Graham of Derby, Mrs. Frank Wharton and Mrs. Phillip Laman of Ashville and Robert Vincent of Orient.

Gifts were presented to Mrs. Marion, Mrs. Harmount, Mrs. Schumm and Miss Schumm from the class for their part on the program.

Aid Meet Postponed

The meeting of the Ladies' Aid Society of Dresbach Evangelical United Brethren church has been postponed until May 25. The meeting was scheduled to have been held Thursday. Mrs. Wayne Luckhart will be hostess in her home near Tarlton.

There were approximately 1,100,000 non-fatal injuries derived from automobile accidents in the United States in 1948.

Joseph Fichter To Address Grange Meeting

Joseph Fichter, Master of Ohio State Grange will give the address at the Open Meeting of Washington Township Grange to be held in observance of Rural Life Sunday. The meeting to which the public has been invited will be held at 2 p. m. Sunday in Washington Township Schoolhouse. A program of special music has been planned.

Announcement that plans had been completed for the Rural Life Sunday program was made Friday when Washington Township Grange candidates took first and second degree work. It was given by Saltcreek Valley degree team under the leadership of Worthy Master Russell Anderson.

Candidates will receive third and fourth degrees May 26. Mr. and Mrs. M. J. Valentine, leaders, will present the Washington Township degree team in the work.

Juvenile Grange members gave a Mother's Day program under the direction of Mrs. William Thomas, juvenile matron.

Group singing was the first number presented by the juveniles. Paul Copeland gave a reading. Following this were recitations by Lydia DeLong and Sarah Kay Best.

Weta Mae Leist played an accordion solo accompanied by Miss Dorothy Glick.

Refreshments were served by Mrs. Ralph DeLong and her committee.

DUV Meeting Is Held

Mrs. C. O. Kerns was program chairman at the meeting of Daughters of the Union Veterans of the Civil War held in the Post Room of Memorial Hall Tuesday evening.

On the Mother's Day program which Mrs. Kerns arranged readings appropriate to the occasion were given by Mrs. Frank Webbe, Mrs. Cora Coffland, Mrs. Kerns and Mrs. E. S. Neuding.

Mrs. Jesse Delong read an historical sketch, "The Grave that Waited 150 Years."

The program followed the business meeting conducted by vice-president, Mrs. O. C. King.

Class Meeting Held Monday

Members of the Helping Hand Class of Pontius Evangelical United Brethren church met Monday evening in the home of Orman Salyer Jr. of Circleville Route 3.

Mrs. Thomas Downs presided at the business session during which it was decided to have the next meeting in the home of Frank Seimer of Circleville Route 4.

On the program Mrs. Richard Shaw read a poem in observance of Mother's Day. Refreshments were served to 15 members.

Three Speakers Given Feature Program Spots In Mother's Day Banquet

Toastmistress
Is Ruth Stout

Three speakers were featured at the program of the traditional mother-daughter banquet held for the 20th-odd year by Mrs. Marion's Sunday School Class of First Methodist church.

Mrs. George Marion, of Columbus, former teacher, for whom the class was named gave an extemporaneous address in which she recalled many banquets given by the class.

Dr. W. L. Sprouse, present teacher, also spoke telling of his own mother.

Mrs. Pryer Harmount talked on "Medicinal Plants" in which she told of the medicinal value of many rare and common plants.

Banquet tables were centered with lace fans surrounding bouquets of tulips and lilacs. White candles provided lights for the tables. Programs were miniature lace fans similar to the large fans used as table decorations. Favors were potted ageratum plants.

Miss Ruth Stout was toast mistress. She gave clues by which the name of each class member could be guessed.

After introductions Mrs. Glenn Hines, class president, gave the welcome to which Mrs. Clarence Moore responded.

Vocal numbers were presented by Mrs. Ralph A. Schumm, accompanied by Miss Marilyn Schumm. Her selections included "Beautiful Lady," "To My Mother" and "Mother Macree."

Arrangements for the banquet were made by four committees. Mrs. Dwight Steele and Mrs. Herbert Southward were in charge of reservations.

Assisting Miss Ruth Stout who was chairman of program committee were Miss Wilmina Phebus, Miss Margie Carmean and Mrs. Oland Bestwick.

On the dinner committee, Mrs. Willison Leist was assisted by Mrs. Ernest Young.

Responsible for the decorations and favors were Mrs. Howard Cook, chairman, Mrs. C. J. Schneider, Mrs. Norman Kutter, Mrs. Edgar McClure and Miss Elizabeth Hilyard.

Out-of-town guests were Mrs. Marion of Columbus, Mrs. H. B. Graham of Derby, Mrs. Frank Wharton and Mrs. Phillip Lamm of Ashville and Robert Vincent of Orient.

Gifts were presented to Mrs. Marion, Mrs. Harmount, Mrs. Schumm and Miss Schumm from the class for their part on the program.

Aid Meet Postponed

The meeting of the Ladies' Aid Society of Dresbach Evangelical United Brethren church has been postponed until May 25. The meeting was scheduled to have been held Thursday. Mrs. Wayne Luckhart will be hostess in her home near Tarlton.

There were approximately 1,000 non-fatal injuries derived from automobile accidents in the United States in 1948.

Joseph Fichter To Address Grange Meeting

Joseph Fichter, Master of Ohio State Grange will give the address at the Open Meeting of Washington Township Grange to be held in observance of Rural Life Sunday. The meeting to which the public has been invited will be held at 2 p.m. Sunday in Washington Township Schoolhouse. A program of special music has been planned.

Announcement that plans had been completed for the Rural Life Sunday program was made Friday when Washington Township Grange candidates took first and second degree work. It was given by Saltcreek Valley degree team under the leadership of Worthy Master Russell Anderson.

Candidates will receive third and fourth degrees May 26. Mr. and Mrs. M. J. Valentine, leaders, will present the Washington Township degree team in the work.

Juvenile Grange members gave Mother's Day program under the direction of Mrs. William Thomas, juvenile matron.

Group singing was the first number presented by the juveniles. Paul Copeland gave a reading. Following this were recitations by Lydia DeLong and Sarah Kay Best.

Weta Mae Leist played an accordion solo accompanied by Miss Dorothy Glick.

Refreshments were served by Mrs. Ralph DeLong and her committee.

DUV Meeting Is Held

Sittler To Get New Hearing On Deportation

COLUMBUS, May 17—Edward V. Sittler, a member of the Nazi radio propaganda organization during World War II, will get a new hearing before the Board of Immigration Appeals.

Sittler, a former Columbus resident, was granted the appeal in Washington. Deportation proceedings against him must be started over again.

Sittler has been in Columbus with his father, the Rev. Joseph Sittler, who is recovering from an auto accident. He said he was "glad to hear" of the favorable ruling for himself and his wife, a British subject.

The board directed that the new hearing be held as soon as possible. An immigration service spokesman said the Detroit office of the service will set the time and place.

The board based its decision on a Supreme Court ruling last February that the Immigration service did not follow the proper administrative procedure in conducting Sittler's and his wife's first hearing.

College Society Gets Suspension

SPRINGFIELD, May 17—Alpha Tau Omega fraternity at Wittenberg college, Springfield, is under suspension until Feb. 1, 1951.

The definite fraternity suspension came Monday. Prior to that, the fraternity was on an indefinite suspension as the result of the death of a fraternity pledge during hazing activities.

Dean Niswonger, 20, of Dayton was killed by a truck May 3 when he and another pledge, Jerry Wendell 20, also of Dayton, fell asleep on the highway near Springfield.

The pair had been taken to the country and told to walk back to the campus. They decided to sit down on the road to wait for a ride.

Officers of the fraternity resigned after the accident.

Crime Probers Expect Open Hearing Soon

WASHINGTON, May 17—Senate crime investigators are digging into nationwide racketeering conditions and hope to reach the open committee hearing stage within two weeks.

Committee sources said, however, that the preliminary work will be cloaked in anonymity, with subcommittees holding closed sessions on the evidence uncovered.

Seventh grade—Judith Goeller, Martha Pile, Dottie List and Martha Rhoads.

Freshmen—David List and Victor Pontius.

Sophomores—Herschel Brumfield and Patty Duvall.

Juniors—Beverly Stevens and Ray Strawser.

Seniors—Joanne Jacobs, Paul Morris, Helen Pritchard, Ronald List, Richard Porter and Ronald Sharrett.

Women's Task Force Advised To Seek Votes

WASHINGTON, May 17—Sen.

Brewster (R) Maine, has advised a Republican women's task force to go after the votes of the 45 million Americans who "didn't buy Santa Claus" in the 1948 elections.

He addressed a kick off luncheon of 40 women representing various organizations, who have signed up for a campaign speaking course.

Brewster told them that if they follow his advice, a Republican sweep in November is "easily within the realm of possibility."

He charged that President Truman on his cross country tour "promised everything under the sun." It was not surprising Brewster continued, that the welcoming band in one community struck up the tune "Santa Claus is Coming."

The senator pointed out that 45 million Americans eligible to vote remained away from the polls in 1948.

He told his audience to go after this group on the ground that the unenacted part of the Truman program will add 25 billion dollars to a federal budget already threatened with a seven billion dollar deficit.

Chief Gets Look At New Daughter

SEROWE, Bechuanaland, May 17—Seretse Khama got his first look at his new daughter Tuesday and came up with the verdict that she is "not pretty."

But the proud papa said it did not matter and settled down for a week's visit with the infant and her "white queen" mother, the former Ruth Williams of London.

Seretse, chief designate of the Bamangwato tribe, has been ordered banished from tribal soil for five years because of the uproar caused by his marriage to the former stenographer.

He was permitted to come to Serowe from Lobatsi to be with his wife and daughter for a week.

Woman Wins Damage Suit

WASHINGTON, May 17—Mrs.

Edith Maske, 42, who lost her left foot in a gasoline explosion five years ago, today was winner of $20,000 damages because her right foot was stepped on.

Mrs. Maske won a district court suit against a bus line when a jury decided that she suffered $20,000 damages because a bus stopped suddenly causing another passenger to step on her right foot with a spike heel. She maintained she suffered severe injuries.

Hysteria Noted In Steel Market

NEW YORK May 17—The Magazine Iron Age said today that for the first time in many months there is a note of hysteria in the steel market this week.

It listed the reasons for this as follows:

1. Steel producers are feeling the full force of furious and unrelenting steel demand.

2. Strikers have set back production 11 million tons since the upsurge of demand last Fall, and about 29 million tons in the past five years.

3. Fearful of interruptions of output due to lack of steel, manufacturers are mounting new pressure on every possible source of steel supply.

4. The partial rail strike just ended magnified the difficulties of producers and consumers alike.

Girl Loses $209 To Two 'Con' Men

DAYTON, May 17—Miss Lula Belle Hardy of Dayton was minus $209 today because she let two "con" men talk her out of her savings at a city bus stop.

Miss Hardy complained to police that she withdrew the money from the post office and turned it over to one man who claimed to be a real estate agent.

The two left with the money, telling her to wait at the bus stop until they returned. That was Miss Hardy's complaint: they didn't.

He was permitted to come to Serowe from Lobatsi to be with his wife and daughter for a week.

If I want to buy some apples, or some 'taters or a squash I can buy 'em where I find 'em, I can look at 'em, by gosh! I don't have to be an expert to tell if they are good. For you bet I know my onions and the other kinds of food. But when a WATCH I purchase—there is something else, by gosh.

There's a lot of jewels and pinions hid away inside the thing.

I don't buy it from a peddler or someone I don't know. I buy it from a jeweler, who I think can make it go. And INSURANCE—there's another, blamed if I can figure why.

There's so many yards of printing in the policy I buy. But I know I'll never get the darned thing figured out SO, I BUY IT FROM AN AGENT WHO KNOWS WHAT IT'S ALL ABOUT!

Sittler To Get New Hearing On Deportation

COLUMBUS, May 17—Edward V. Sittler, a member of the Nazi radio propaganda organization during World War II, will get a new hearing before the Board of Immigration Appeals.

Sittler, a former Columbus resident, was granted the appeal in Washington. Deportation proceedings against him must be started over again.

Sittler has been in Columbus with his father, the Rev. Joseph Sittler, who is recovering from an auto accident. He said he was "glad to hear" of the favorable ruling for himself and his wife, a British subject.

The board directed that the new hearing be held as soon as possible. An immigration service spokesman said the Detroit office of the service will set the time and place.

The board based its decision on a Supreme Court ruling last February that the Immigration service did not follow the proper administrative procedure in conducting Sittler's and his wife's first hearing.

College Society Gets Suspension

SPRINGFIELD, May 17—Alpha Tau Omega fraternity at Wittenberg college, Springfield, is under suspension until Feb. 1, 1951.

The definite fraternity suspension came Monday. Prior to that, the fraternity was on an indefinite suspension as the result of the death of a fraternity pledge during hazing activities.

Dean Niswonger, 20, of Dayton was killed by a truck May 3 when he and another pledge Jerry Wendell 20, also of Dayton, fell asleep on the highway near Springfield.

The pair had been taken to the country and told to walk back to the campus. They decided to sit down on the road to wait for a ride.

Officers of the fraternity resigned after the accident.

Crime Probers Expect Open Hearing Soon

WASHINGTON, May 17—Senate crime investigators are digging into nationwide racketeering conditions and hope to reach the open committee hearing stage within two weeks.

Committee sources said, however, that the preliminary work will be cloaked in anonymity, with subcommittees holding closed sessions on the evidence uncovered.

Seventh grade—Judith Goeller, Martha Pile, Dottie List and Martha Rhoads.

Eighth grade—Louise Coey, Carolyn Smith, Barbara McKenzie and Beverly Turner.

Freshmen—David List and Victor Pontius.

Sophomores—Herschel Brumfield and Patty Duvall.

Juniors—Beverly Stevens and Ray Strawser.

Seniors—Joanne Jacobs, Paul Morris, Helen Pritchard, Ronald List, Richard Porter and Ronald Sharrett.

Women's Task Force Advised To Seek Votes

WASHINGTON, May 17—Sen. Brewster (R) Maine, has advised a Republican women's task force to go after the votes of the 45 million Americans who "didn't buy Santa Claus" in the 1948 elections.

He addressed a kick off luncheon of 40 women representing various organizations, who have signed up for a campaign speaking course.

Brewster told them that if they follow his advice, a Republican sweep in November is "easily within the realm of possibility."

He charged that President Truman on his cross country tour "promised everything under the sun." It was not surprising Brewster continued, that the welcoming band in one community struck up the tune "Santa Claus is Coming."

The senator pointed out that 45 million Americans eligible to vote remained away from the polls in 1948.

He told his audience to go after this group on the ground that the unenacted part of the Truman program will add 25 billion dollars to a federal budget already threatened with a seven billion dollar deficit.

Chief Gets Look At New Daughter

SEROWE, Bechuanaland, May 17—Seretse Khama got his first look at his new daughter Tuesday and came up with the verdict that she is "not pretty."

But the proud papa said it did not matter and settled down for a week's visit with the infant and her "white queen" mother, the former Ruth Williams of London.

Seretse, chief designate of the Bamangwato tribe, has been ordered banished from tribal soil for five years because of the uproar caused by his marriage to the former stenographer.

He was permitted to come to Serowe from Lobatsi to be with his wife and daughter for a week.

Woman Wins Damage Suit

WASHINGTON, May 17—Mrs. Edith Maske, 42, who lost her left foot in a gasoline explosion five years ago, today was winner of $20,000 damages because her right foot was stepped on.

Mrs. Maske won a district court suit against a bus line when a jury decided that she suffered $20,000 damages because a bus stopped suddenly causing another passenger to step on her right foot with a spike heel. She maintained she suffered severe injuries.

Hysteria Noted In Steel Market

NEW YORK May 17—The Magazine Iron Age said today that for the first time in many months there is a note of hysteria in the steel market this week.

It listed the reasons for this as follows:

1. Steel producers are feeling the full force of furious and unrelenting steel demand.

2. Strikes have set back production 11 million tons since the upsurge of demand last Fall, and about 29 million tons in the past five years.

3. Fearful of interruptions of output due to lack of steel, manufacturers are mounting new pressure on every possible source of steel supply.

4. The partial rail strike just ended magnified the difficulties of producers and consumers alike.

Girl Loses $209 To Two 'Con' Men

DAYTON, May 17—Miss Lula Bell Hardy of Dayton was minus $209 today because she let two "con" men talk her out of her savings at a city bus stop.

Miss Hardy complained to police that she withdrew the money from the post office and turned it over to one man who claimed to be a real estate agent.

The two left with the money, telling her to wait at the bus stop until they returned. That was Miss Hardy's complaint: they didn't.

TUSSLE FILLS 4,800 PAGES

Goering's Widow Seeks Ownership Of Castle

VIENNA, May 17 — Emmy Goering, widow of the loath-holding Nazi reichsmarshal, is trying today to get her hands on a little place she would like to call home.

It is one of the trinkets Hermann Goering "owned" but overlooked—a full-sized medieval castle in Austria that a wealthy female admirer bequeathed him in her will.

Emmy, who calls Bavaria her present home, is pressing a lawsuit in provincial Austrian court to gain control of the fabulous castle of Mautendorf, near Salzburg.

She has lots of competition, though. Three other parties, including the Austrian Government, claim full rights to it. The Catholic Diocese of Salzburg says the furnishings, at least, belong to the church.

So far, the tussle has filled 4,800 pages of records in tiny St. Michael's court.

WHEN GERMAN Noblewoman Elizabeth Von Eppenstein died in 1939 she willed Castle Mautendorf to her good friend Goering as a token of her esteem.

Emmy Goering and her daughter, Edda, as closest relatives of the Nazi leader, claim the property outright.

Relatives of the Von Eppsteins are right behind her.

DR. FRANZ HAUSA, of Vienna, attorney for a group of brothers and nieces of Elizabeth Von Eppenstein, asserts that Goering never formally accepted the donation.

The Austrian Government is anxious to have the property declared legally Goering's. Under the provision of the restitution laws the government feels it would have the right to confiscate it.

AND THE executor of the will, Colonel Mex-Randa claims 1½ million schillings—or the castle itself—for his labor in administering the property since 1939.

The Catholic church feels that the valuable 18th century furnishings of the castle have always been church property, no matter who gets the castle.

The fight over Mautendorf, which has dragged on for 11 years, is expected to reach a national court this Fall.

Even then, court officials in Vienna feel the problem of Goering's overlooked castle will be far from settled.

Nickel Fare Thing Of Past

COLUMBUS May 17 — The "nickel" bus fare in Columbus is, by order of the court, a thing of the past today.

Judge Leland Rutherford of Morrow County, assigned to decide the long-standing fight for retention of the 24-year-old nickel bus rate, held yesterday that it was invalid and confiscatory.

The present "temporary" rate of eight cents cash or seven tickets for 50 cents was supported by the judge who foresaw an even higher rate for the future.

Judge Rutherford held that the Columbus Transit Company has not made sufficient profits to warrant refunds of money collected by the "interim rates."

It said a temporary controller has been appointed over the property of Queen Nazli "until the decision is taken as to whether she should be placed under custody."

Four Ordinances Are Passed By Council

With little comment, Circleville city council Tuesday evening passed four ordinances under emergency rules, making them effective immediately.

Perhaps of major importance was the ordinance which will set up a new sick leave schedule for city employees. It had been given its first reading previously, was up for a second Tuesday night.

Council decided against further delay, voted for the measure unanimously to be effective immediately.

The ordinance, virtually a duplicate of a new state statute, is designed to grant up to 90 days accumulated sick leave by civil service employees.

Other ordinances:

(1) Authorized $805 expenditure for installation of 370 feet of six-inch sanitary sewer on Abernethy Avenue;

(2) Made available $958.20 for L. S. Lytle, local electrician, for synchronization of traffic signal lights.

(3) Set up a fund of $1,000 for Attorney Ray Davis to pay for his services in settling out of court the recent litigation filed against the city by Attorneys Joe Adkins and Tom Renick.

DERBY—Judge Leland Rutherford of Morrow County, assigned to decide the long-standing fight for retention of the 24-year-old nickel bus rate, held yesterday that it was invalid and confiscatory.

The present "temporary" rate of eight cents cash or seven tickets for 50 cents was supported by the judge who foresaw an even higher rate for the future.

Judge Rutherford held that the Columbus Transit Company has not made sufficient profits to warrant refunds of money collected by the "interim rates."

The action came at the request of King Farouk.

A communiqué announced that upon recommendation of the council the "proper authorities" have been instructed to place Fathyia under protection of her brother, King Farouk, "until the question of her association with Riad Ghali is finally disposed of." The authorities were instructed to prevent any meeting between the couple.

Fathyia and Riad, financial and political adviser to queen-mother Nazli, were married in a civil ceremony in San Francisco April 25.

Last Wednesday Queen Nazli said in San Francisco she was trying to "reach into the heart" of Farouk to get him to approve the marriage.

The communiqué added that steps have been taken to tighten the purse-string on funds available to Queen Nazli and Fathyia.

It said a temporary controller has been appointed over the property of Queen Nazli "until the decision is taken as to whether she should be placed under custody."

ROBERTS WINS HARD WAY

Phillies, Yankees Head Respective Leagues

NEW YORK, May 17—The Philadelphia Phillies and the New York Yankees are at the head of the class in their respective leagues today because of the adept right arms of a youngster and a crafty veteran.

The youngster would be Robin Roberts, whose brilliant 1 to 0

two-hit whitewash of the Cincinnati Reds last night kept the Phils atop the National League. And the veteran is Allie Reynolds, who blanked the St. Louis Browns, 11 to 0 on five hits.

Roberts, the 23-year-old bonus beauty, won his fifth game of the season the hard way. He had to best Ewell Blackwell in a thrilling mound duel. The Cincinnati "Whip," who is on the comeback trail this season, allowed the Phils just three hits, but they got two of them in the first inning when they scored the game's only run.

Singles by Richie Ashburn and Granny Hamner and a walk to Eddie Waitkus loaded the bases. Ashburn registered as Del Ennis hit into a double play.

The Phillies had to win to stay on top because the Brooklyn Dodgers beat the St. Louis Cardinals, 3 to 1, behind Preacher Roe's four-hitter. Roe, first Dodger pitcher to go the distance in 11 starts, won his third game.

The victory raised the Brooks to second place and dropped the Cards into third place.

THE YANKEES rode into first place behind Reynolds' third win.

The victory, highlighted by an eight run eighth inning in which Billy Johnson hit a grand slam homer, raised them above the Detroit Tigers and the Boston Red Sox.

The Bosox stopped the Tigers, and Art Houtteman, 6 to 1 on Joe Dobson's six-hitter. All Boston's runs were the result of homers by Ted Williams and Vern Stephens. Williams hit two (his tenth and eleventh) that were good for four runs. And Stephens also hit a couple, his fifth and sixth.

In other games, Johnny Sain gained his fifth win and second straight shut out as the Boston Braves blanked the Pittsburgh Pirates, 3 to 0. Bob Elliott hit a two-run homer off loser Murray Dickson in the eighth.

Bob Rush won his fourth game in a row as homers by Wayne Terwilliger and Andy Pafko helped the Chicago Cubs to a 4 to 3 victory over the New York Giants.

Eleven Drivers Assured Spots In Auto Classic

INDIANAPOLIS May 17—Eleven drivers are assured of starting assignments for the 500-mile Memorial Day speedway race over the storied brick and asphalt oval at Indianapolis, but no one driver could make the grade Sunday.

Ten of the 11 qualifiers placed their names on the starting list with blistering speeds of 130 miles an hour or better over the 10-mile test.

Some 65,000 rabid fans watched Walt Faulkner, a Long Beach Cal., rookie, set a new all-time record when he sped around the oval at an average pace of 134.343 mph. He piloted A. J. Agajanian's Grant Piston Ring Special.

On one lap, Faulkner was clocked at 136.013 mph.

Speedway President Wilbur Shaw, a three-time winner of the big race himself, predicted that it will take an average of 128 miles an hour for drivers to get in the starting lineup this year.

Other drivers who qualified for one of the 33 starting spots were Fred Agabashian, Albany, Cal.; Mauri Rose South Bend Ind.; George Connor, Los Angeles; Johnny Parsons, Van Nuys, Cal.; Jack McGrath, Alhambra, Cal.; Duke Dinsmore, Dayton, O.; Tony Bettenhausen, Tinley Park, Ill.; Joie Chitwood, Reading, Pa.; Bill Holland, Reading, Pa.; and Pat Flaherty Glendale, Cal.

Leibold Bowling Suffers Collapse

COLUMBUS, May 17—Frank Leibold of Cleveland who had that 652 start toward all-events in the American Bowling Congress tourney in Columbus is a disappointed man today.

Leibold collapsed and wound up with 575-494 for 1721 yesterday.

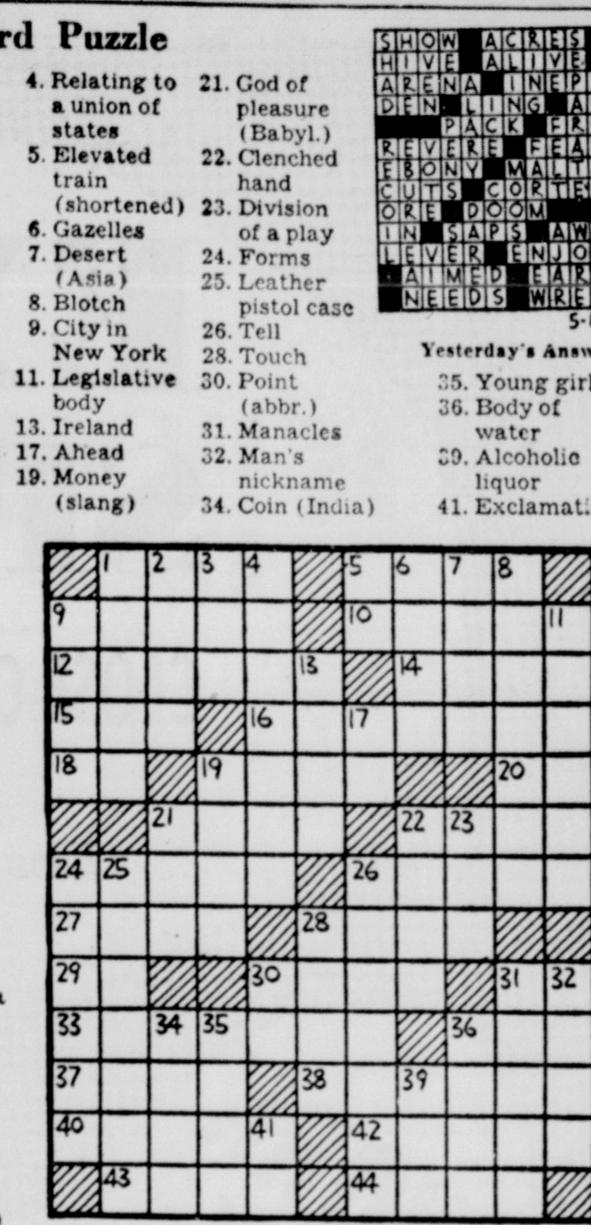

And while he was collapsing, the tournament's low game was recorded when George Kaiser of Downington Pa. quit in the first game of his singles after shooting 51 pins. He was in the fourth frame and could hold the ball no longer.

Gene Geib of Fremont former Circleville athlete, left University hospital, Columbus, Tuesday following treatment for a mild brain concussion.

The athlete, center for the Freshman Ohio State university football team, suffered the injury last Saturday during Spring practice. His condition is reported good.

Phillies, Yankees Head Respective Leagues

NEW YORK, May 17—The Philadelphia Phillies and the New York Yankees are at the head of the class in their respective leagues today because of the adept right arms of a youngster and a crafty veteran.

The youngster would be Robin Roberts, whose brilliant 1 to 0

two-hit whitewash of the Cincinnati Reds last night kept the Phils atop the National League.

And the veteran is Allie Reynolds, who blanked the St. Louis Browns, 11 to 0 on five hits.

Roberts, the 23-year-old bonus beauty, won his fifth game of the season the hard way. He had to best Ewell Blackwell in a thrilling mound duel. The Cincinnati "Whip," who is on the comeback trail this season, allowed the Phils just three hits, but they got two of them in the first inning when they scored the game's only run.

Singles by Richie Ashburn and Granny Hammer and a walk to Eddie Waitkus loaded the bases. Ashburn registered as Del Ennis hit into a double play.

The Phillies had to win to stay on top because the Brooklyn Dodgers beat the St. Louis Cardinals, 3 to 1, behind Preacher Roe's four-hitter. Roe, first Dodger pitcher to go the distance in 11 starts, won his third game.

The victory raised the Brooks to second place and dropped the Cards into third place.

THE YANKEES rode into first place behind Reynolds' third win.

The victory, highlighted by an eight run eighth inning in which Billy Johnson hit a grand slam homer, raised them above the Detroit Tigers and the Boston Red Sox.

The Boston stopped the Tigers, and Art Houtteman, 6 to 1 on Joe Dobson's six-hitter. All Boston's runs were the result of homers by Ted Williams and Vern Stephens. Williams hit two (his tenth and eleventh) that were good for four runs. And Stephens also hit a couple, his fifth and sixth.

In other games, Johnny Sain gained his fifth win and second straight shut out as the Boston Braves blanked the Pittsburgh Pirates, 3 to 0. Bob Elliott hit a two-run homer off loser Murray Dickson in the eighth.

Bob Rush won his fourth game in a row as homers by Wayne Terwilliger and Andy Pafko helped the Chicago Cubs to a 4 to 3 victory over the New York Giants.

• Eleven Drivers Assured Spots In Auto Classic

INDIANAPOLIS, May 17—Eleven drivers are assured of starting assignments for the 500-mile Memorial Day speedway race over the storied brick and asphalt oval at Indianapolis, but no one driver could make the grade Sunday.

Ten of the 11 qualifiers placed their names on the starting list with blistering speeds of 130 miles an hour or better over the 10-mile test.

Some 65,000 rabid fans watched Walt Faulkner, a Long Beach, Cal., rookie, set a new all-time record when he sped around the oval at an average pace of 134.343 mph.

He piloted A. J. Agajanian's Grant Piston Ring Special.

On one lap, Faulkner was clocked at 136.013 mph.

Speedway President Wilbur Shaw, a three-time winner of the big race himself, predicted that it will take an average of 128 miles an hour for drivers to get in the starting lineup this year.

Other drivers who qualified for one of the 33 starting spots were Fred Agabashian, Albany, Cal.; Mauri Rose, South Bend Ind.; George Connor, Los Angeles; Johnny Parsons, Van Nuys, Cal.; Jack McGrath, Alhambra, Cal.; Duke Dinsmore, Dayton, O.; Tony Bettenhausen, Tinley Park, Ill.; Joie Chitwood, Reading, Pa.; Bill Holland, Reading, Pa.; and Pat Flaherty, Glendale, Cal.

Pupils Eyeing Exam Date

Graduation List Said 'Incomplete'

School activities are plunging into a whirlwind climax for Circleville youngsters.

Circleville schools will be closed officially June 2 when the boys and girls tramp into the building for their final grade cards.

At present, high school boys and girls are eyeing the calendar in anticipation of the final semester examinations, scheduled for May 25 and 26.

For a few of the seniors in this year's graduating class, the final examinations may mean the difference between graduating and returning to another year of school, according to Principal J. Wray Henry.

The principal Tuesday said that the 1950 graduate list could not be released yet because of "several borderline cases."

HE ADDED: "We won't know about a few of those until after the final exams."

Meanwhile, preparations for the closing of school are underway in full scale.

The first activity will be the annual Spring Music Festival next Tuesday, presented by the high school music department.

Following the tell-tale examinations the seniors will observe baccalaureate services at 8 p.m. May 28 in First Evangelical United Brethren church with the Rev. Alonzo Hill, pastor of Pilgrim Holiness church, officiating.

The boys and girls will receive their first taste of the coming vacation period May 30 when they will be dismissed for Decoration Day.

High school boys and girls, as well as those coming into high school from the eighth grade, will spend May 31 registering for courses for the 1951 school year.

HIGHLIGHT of the closing activities will be commencement exercises for the senior class at 8 p.m. June 1 in the school auditorium.

Crites Reports City Finances 'Unusually Low'

Circleville city council Tuesday evening accepted the semi-monthly financial report from Auditor Lillian Young, but not without comment concerning the "unusually low" balance of the general fund.

The report showed the general fund balance standing at only $6,620.61.

Councilman George Crites said that unless the fund was replenished quickly, the city would be without funds by the time council meets again June 6.

Crites opined that a major reason for the low balance was the fact that the city has not yet received its share of tax monies from Pickaway County. He said that usually the city's share is received the first week of May each year. The check has been delayed, he said.

Estimating that the city would receive about $27,000 from the county, Crites said he planned conferring with county authorities to determine cause of the holdup.

The city auditor's complete report follows:

General Fund, receipts, $642.25; expenditures, $7,157.21; balance, $6,620.61.

Water Works Oper. Fund, receipts, $3,906.74; expenditures, $1,868.49; balance, 16,255.77.

Joint Meeting Of Civic Clubs Is Planned

John Heiskell, president of Circleville Kiwanis Club, announced this week that his organization plans "returning the favor" to its rival civic club, Rotary.

Heiskell said that Kiwanians will ask that Rotarians be their guests the evening of June 26 in Pickaway Country Club.

The Kiwanis chieftain said the club had succeeded as speaker Ollie James, chief editorial writer for The Cincinnati Enquirer.

The Cincinnati newspaperman, whose column "Innocent Bystander" appears daily, is one of the most sought-after journalists in Ohio.

In his letter of confirmation on the June 26 date, James wrote:

"I would be happy to come to Circleville and even stay and help wash the dishes."

Kiwanians, however, promised that neither James nor visiting Rotarians would be expected to undergo scullery detail.

Heiskell said that the meeting would "return the favor" given Kiwanians by Rotarians some weeks ago when the two groups held a joint meeting in the local BPO Elks lodge, home of the Rotary Club.

Words Confuse American Women

CLEVELAND, May 17 — In a scientific session in public hall, Dr. George Andros of University Maternity hospital in Ann Arbor, Mich., said that there is no sure safe method for mothers to escape childbirth pain.

He said American women were being confused by propaganda about self-discipline and gymnastics as a pain preventive and by the words of "pseudo-scientific writer" who described a synthetic narcotic appropriated from the Germans as "god's magic medicine."

"Pain is an integral part of labor today as for centuries in the past. The 'painless labors' which all of us have witnessed occur in neurophysiological freaks or in rare individuals whose stoicism is refined to the point of abnormality."

Joint Meeting Of Civic Clubs Is Planned

John Heiskell, president of Circleville Kiwanis Club, announced this week that his organization plans "returning the favor" to its rival civic club, Rotary.

Heiskell said that Kiwanians will ask that Rotarians be their guests the evening of June 26 in Pickaway Country Club.

The Kiwanis chieftain said the club had scheduled as speaker Ollie James, chief editorial writer for The Cincinnati Enquirer.

The Cincinnati newspaperman, whose column "Innocent Bystander" appears daily, is one of the most sought-after journalists in Ohio.

In his letter of confirmation on the June 26 date, James wrote:

"I would be happy to come to Circleville and even stay and help wash the dishes."

Kiwanians, however, promised that neither James nor visiting Rotarians would be expected to undergo scullery detail.

Heiskell said that the meeting would "return the favor" given Kiwanians by Rotarians some weeks ago when the two groups held a joint meeting in the local BPO Elks lodge, home of the Rotary Club.

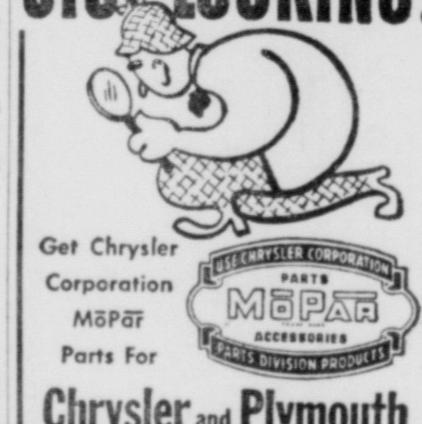

Words Confuse American Women

CLEVELAND, May 17 — In a scientific session in public hall, Dr. George Andros of University Maternity hospital in Ann Arbor, Mich., said that there is no sure safe method for mothers to escape childbirth pain.

He said American women were being confused by propaganda about self-discipline and gymnastics as a pain preventive and by the words of a "pseudo-scientific writer" who described a synthetic narcotic appropriated from the Germans as "god's magic medicine."

"Pain is an integral part of labor today as for centuries in the past. The 'painless labors' which all of us have witnessed occur in neurophysiological freaks or in rare individuals whose stoicism is refined to the point of abnormality."
